Boardman High School

Boardman, Ohio

FOREWORD

An anniversary tends to make a person look back and remember the beginning. And so, you ask—"How and when did Boardman High School come into being?" The year 1904 saw the commencement of a unified school system consisting of a grade school and a two-year high school. All the one-room schools, some dating as far back as 1803, that were scattered throughout the township were consolidated into one school under the direction of Mr. Walter B. Randolph. Two years later, Mr. Jerome Hull became superintendent and under his administration a four-room brick addition was built on to the present site of our school. In 1914, when Mr. Hull left Boardman to become the first County Superintendent, Mr. G. Barton assumed the position of superintendent. He was the "father of athletics" at B.H.S. and introduced a definite three-year high school course. In 1918 Boardman received a charter for a four-year high school and graduated its first four-year class in June of 1918.

Since 1918 Boardman High School has continued to grow in both structural size and enrollment, and today it is a first-rate high school of academic standing. Through the years the school board, administrators, teachers, students, and the community, itself, have acquired for Boardman an excellent reputation of quality education. And it is our responsibility, as residents, to see that Boardman's reputation remains golden. Each citizen has his individual responsibility to question, to respond, and to participate. Taking pride in its educational system, the community will continue to make changes in B.H.S., as it has done in the past in meeting the requirements of the future. The 1968 Crier is a chronicle of these changes and a tribute to the past fifty years of Boardman High School.

DEDICATION

The efforts of many of Boardman's citizens in the past and, even more so, in the present have elevated the goals and standards of our school to a level of highest quality. In the years to come, every graduate will be able to look back on Boardman High School as an alma mater of which he can be truly proud. Therefore, the yearbook staff dedicates the 1968 Crier to the entire community of Boardman.

Alchemists tried in vain to create gold from other substances, but in a mere fifty years we have managed to transform brick and plaster into the most precious of elements. This will be insured for the future by the concern of the community and our new construction program.

Occupants Make

Just everyday occurrences—nothing new, nothing special—and yet the moments do seem to glitter with the happiness of friendships and experiences.

These The Memorable Days

Our educational program consists of a variety of study areas: academic, commercial, vocational, and fine arts, all balanced with a fine athletic program. With the help of teachers, counselors, coaches, and advisors, we strive to win the struggle for a greater knowledge of the advances of our time, and a greater understanding of our own talents and abilities.

To Build From

It is difficult to realize that the abundance of action, movement, and excitement that resounds throughout the school could arise from a few inanimate bricks. Homecoming, football games, a musical, school dances, basketball season, Prom, assemblies, and graduation are among the many memories of a year at B.H.S.

Mr. Irvin J. Nisonger, Superintendent, and his secretary, Mrs. Jeanne Slagle.

Superintendent

Serving as a golden link between the students and the citizens of Boardman, Mr. Irvin J. Nisonger, our Superintendent, has encouraged a healthy relationship and better understanding of the two. Living in the present is not enough, for Mr. Nisonger's job requires that he project the total school picture into the future. He must estimate the ever-increasing enrollment of the coming years so we can prepare for our future needs. Supervising a school personnel of 385, overseeing a building program, and hiring new teachers are additional responsibilities. In spite of all these duties, however, Mr. Nisonger finds time to become personally involved with students, and his congeniality and warmth of character truly emerge.

The Boardman News is only one source of many that keeps Mr. Nisonger up to date on the community as well as the school picture.

Seated: Mr. Donald McKay, Mr. William Fowler, Dr. Arthur Nicolette.

Boardman Board of Education

Five dedicated citizens, of the community's choice, formulate the school policies of Boardman High School. The Board of Education, which meets once a month, is concerned with managing the budget, employing the personnel, overseeing transportation, and arranging the school calendar.

A major issue of this year's program was the continuation of the planning of a new high school which will cost $5,300,000. Construction has already begun on the new school located south of the present junior high. The opening and operation of this was assured by the community's approval of the 5.4 school levy.

Members of the school board could be discussing one of these many school problems—the operating levy, the building program, or the budget.

Mrs. Irma Randall, Clerk to the Board of Education and Mrs. Beverly Edwards, Assistant Clerk to the Board of Education.

Administrative Assistants

Mr. Grant Kibbel

The appointment of Mr. Grant Kibbel as Administrative Assistant in charge of Curriculum is another ending and beginning in his career. With the acceptance of this challenging opportunity, he terminated six years of adept leadership as principal of Boardman High School. Presently, Mr. Kibbel suggests new teaching methods for each grade level by surveying past techniques, examining modern trends, and re-evaluating current curriculum. He also originated and instituted the theme of "Americanism" that was used throughout the school year.

Mr. Kibbel and his secretary, Mrs. Eleanor Rempes.

Mr. John Harr

With the passage of a tax levy for a new high school, over five million dollars was allotted for building materials, labor costs, and instructional equipment. As Administrative Assistant in charge of Business Affairs, Mr. John Harr, with the school board approving all expenditures, oversees the progress of construction. Handling the budget for the present school system, he purchases all supplies, keeps an inventory of all equipment, and supervises the year-round maintenance of our six schools.

Mr. Harr and his secretary, Mrs. Louise Meek.

Mr. Kirk and his secretary Mrs. Marjorie Gubbins.

Principal

A golden anniversary to celebrate and a new principal to welcome makes 1967-1968 a meaningful year. With ten years of teaching and administrative experience at Boardman, the change-over into his principalship was a smooth transition. Mr. Kirk's educational background involves a BA degree earned from Wilmington College, an MA from Haverford College, additional work at Kent State University, and two years experience counseling at a boys' training school in Kenya, Africa. Working with his eighty-seven faculty members, he adjusts our academic, extra-curricular, and social programs to coincide with the various phases of our high school life.

In 50 years, the high school administration and faculty staff grew from eleven to ninety-three.

"You will find that graduation from high school will not be the end of your career but perhaps the beginning." This thought is the core of Mr. Richard Selby's college counseling. With the experiences of teaching, coaching, and advising that make him aware of student reactions, Mr. Selby compiled a handbook in 1963, titled Calendar and Procedure to be used by students in the making of their future plans. This booklet is given to every student in both his junior and senior years; because of its exactness of information, Mr. Selby has been requested to publish the booklet for use in other area high schools. Mr. Selby also has a program of counseling parochial students planning to enter B.H.S. in their freshman year.

Due to the changeover from numerical grades to letter grades and the use of IBM computers in marking report cards, much of the work has been shifted to Mr. Selby's shoulders and, thus, the teachers are given more time at the end of each nine-weeks period.

Mrs. Nancy Baun, Secretary to Mr. Zorn.

Mr. Richard Selby, Assistant Principal, and his secretary, Mrs. Effie Mae Tracy, Records Clerk.

Assistant Principals

Poland's loss is Boardman's gain! The former principal of Poland Union Grade School this year assumed the position of Assistant Principal at B.H.S. With training and experience behind him, Mr. Robert Zorn has effected a balance between school codes and student expression. Much of his time is devoted to disciplinary problems and advising boys on acceptable appearance. Among the challenges which met him was that of administrative advisor to the Student Council.

Mr. Zorn taught a course of speed reading last year at Youngstown State University, and is now working on his doctorate at the University of Pittsburgh. His insight and understanding are sure to be a major factor in the future of our school.

Mr. Robert Zorn, Assistant Principal.

Guidance

Our guidance counselors have helped countless students to find solutions to problems in school and to make future plans for after graduation. The first guidance department has expanded, and Mr. Henry Moore who served the school from 1951 to 1953. The following two years, no counselor was employed, but in 1955, the need for a student advisor was realized, and a new counselor was placed on the staff. Since 1955, the guidance department has expanded, and there are presently four counselors.

At the beginning of the school year Miss Roman plans an orientation day for the freshmen to acquaint them with the unfamiliar high school life. As the year progresses, she continues to act as their advisor. This counseling is taken over in the sophomore year by Mr. Lantz, who also arranges for the students any special tutoring or additional help in reading or speech. Mr. Strauss and Mr. Selby, junior and senior counselors respectively, inform the upperclassmen about college requirements, future areas of study, and college entrance examinations.

Mr. Edward Strauss, Junior Guidance Counselor.

Mr. Robert Lantz, Sophomore Guidance Counselor.

Dean of Girls

Mrs. Karen Dennison, Dean of Girls.

Maintaining attendance records and counseling the girls in personal appearance and conduct are just a few of the myriad duties of Mrs. Karen Dennison, Dean of Girls. She also serves as coach for all three cheer-leading squads. Besides providing the opportunity for seniors to obtain pre-Christmas employment by participation in the Jingle Bell program, she also assumes the responsibility of arranging the processions for Baccalaureate and Commencement. As Dean of Girls, Mrs. Dennison truly upholds the quality of Boardman High through her friendly influence and direction.

Mrs. Bonnie Mead, school nurse, with student helper Delores DeSantis to her right, supervised chest X-rays for the seniors and the administration. The Heaf test was given to 500 freshmen earlier in the year as part of her regular duties.

The clubs and organizations of B.H.S. owe the efficient handling of their funds to Mrs. Nellie Hrinko, clerk-treasurer and bookkeeper.

Personnel

Two-hundred forty-seven certified employees serve the 6,000 students in the entire Boardman school system. With their offices located in the high school building, twenty members of this personnel co-ordinate and supplement the instructional program.

Even with the rapidly increasing enrollment, Mrs. Ethel Hrabko, receptionist clerk in the main office, can easily find any student schedule in the circular file.

Co-ordinating public and parochial school bus routes is a major accomplishment for Mr. George Bohn and his secretary Mrs. Donna Speerbrecher. Mr. Bohn also arranges the transportation for all school field trips.

School psychologist Mr. Charles Nicholson and his assistant Miss Shikowski (seated), an intern psychologist, offer personal guidance to any Boardman student. Mrs. Ruth Gushert (standing) is secretary for Mr. Nicholson as well as for the speech therapist and elementary vocal and instrumental music teachers.

The recent federal multimedia grant of $85,000 enabled the Audiovisual Department to compile a library of 450 films and 1200 filmstrips, along with supplementary tapes, records, and textbooks. The audiovisual materials, also available to Boardman's parochial schools, cover many areas of study: English and literature, mathematics, history, science, government, business, fine arts, and vocational arts. Both a film manual and a filmstrip catalogue have been published to aid the teachers in making their selections.

Bill Borts, in charge of equipment and maintenance, and Mr. Richard Gamble, high school coordinator of visual aids.

Staff

Cafeteria Workers

Our cafeteria ladies begin long before first period to prepare hot, nourishing meals for the 1500 student and faculty members whom the cafeteria serves daily. With student assistance, they also keep two regular menu lines and one snack line in constant motion to ease congestion during the three crowded lunch periods.

Custodians

All the activity in the hallways does not cease as the tardy bell rings for classes to begin, for several custodians may be seen shining windows and sweeping floors to provide a more pleasant and healthful atmosphere for Boardman's many students. The rest of this staff may be found attending to repairs, replacing burned-out light bulbs, or delivering supplies for teachers. As the bell rings once more, they suddenly vanish, only to reappear in four minutes to start again their never-ending work.

Bus

Drivers

Imagine the 5501 students attending Boardman public schools or the parochial schools, who presently ride buses, all walking to school. The results would be dangerous as well as confusing. However, with the aid of 43 bus drivers, some driving as many as three rounds per day, students are transported safely to and from school. Never has there been a serious accident involving one of our buses.

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Peters prepared over 400 sandwiches each day for the snack line.

Mr. Luce gives his personal attention to a student needing help with her creative writing.

After student teaching at B.H.S. at the beginning of the school year, Mrs. Helene Zlotnick became a regular faculty member during the second semester.

English

The goal of our English Department is to develop in each student a deeper insight into man and his culture. The curriculum is designed to increase a student's sensibility to language, the vehicle of ideas and emotions, and his comprehension of the philosophies of our culture. This study of language and literature instills in each student an awareness of the thoughts of people in the past and better equips him to relate his own feelings and ideas to others in the present.

Library

The creation of literature never ceases and neither does the expansion of Boardman High's library. In constant use by nearly all the students, both for reference and simply for individual reading pleasure, our library has continued to grow throughout the years. Since September of this year alone, more than a thousand new books have been added to the many which are already included in the library.

Reading

Now in its sixth year, the reading center continues to offer students an opportunity to obtain better reading skills needed for future educational and vocational experience. Through the use of magazines, film strips, and pacers, a student is able to increase both his reading and vocabulary comprehension. Students also have access to listening and reader tapes designed to strengthen their power of concentration and their ability to understand not only the written word, but even more so, the spoken word.

Language

The key to world peace is international understanding. However, before understanding there must first come a general knowledge of languages and cultures of the universe. Our Language Department emphasizes the study of grammar and literature in the languages that are offered and introduces the student to the countries' backgrounds and customs. The language program has grown to include a wide variety of language choices: Latin, Spanish, French, German, and initiated in 1966, Russian.

These students look as if they're ready for the countdown. Actually, they are making use of the language lab, a vital asset to the study of a foreign language.

Mathematics

In addition to the courses of Algebra, Geometry, Trig, and Calculus, B.H.S. now offers Probability and Matrix Algebra. Our age of computers and automation has placed an emphasis on our awareness of numbers. Each year we learn more and more about the various aspects of mathematics as the methods and programs change. Our teachers, too, are learning and changing, as Boardman provides her students with a modern outlook on Math.

Science

Progress for the future is directly dependent upon increasing our scientific knowledge in the present. Due to the rapidly changing technological pace in the modern world, B.H.S. has introduced new programs of scientific study. Besides the addition of a course, Earth Science, the present Biology I and Physics courses have been renovated. The teachers, also, are increasing their scientific know-how, through supplementary courses and new programmed teaching equipment. The great developments of our world in science are being passed on by our teachers so that we may be better able to meet tomorrow's challenges.

Social Studies

The majority of students realize that the required courses of world history, American history, and problems of democracy, are subjects which enable them to deal effectively with present challenges by considering the mistakes and achievements of the past to situations today. The electives, world geography, psychology, sociology, and economics, acquaint the student with the present state of the world and its peoples so that he can plan more intelligently for the future.

Physical Education

One period each day all freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, can put aside their notebooks and pencils, and instead of listening to a classroom lecture, can use their bodies and brains for more enjoyable, strenuous physical activities in gym class. Sportsmanship and teamwork are stressed in basketball, volleyball, golf, tennis, bowling, and track. Special activities for girls include modern and folk dancing and gymnastics. Freshmen are given a course in health for a semester where they learn the complex structure and functions of the body and the importance of personal hygiene.

Basketball, a favorite sport of the boys' gym classes, provides both exercise and fun.

Business Department

There's no business like our business—typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, general business, and sales and law. Students interested in entering the business world are able to prepare themselves by learning the skills, and then perfecting them through diligent practice.

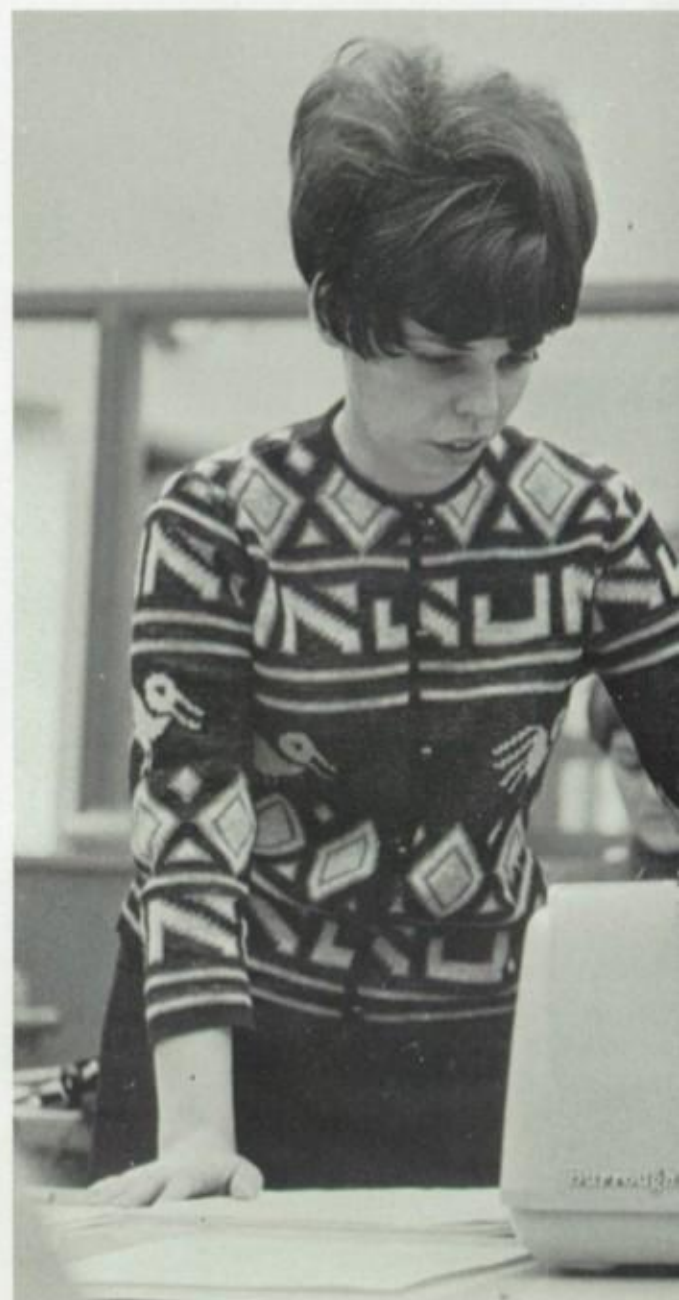

In order to satisfy the needs of the trainees, the department must be able to change simultaneously with the times. C.O.E., a new program whereby students learn the trade by actual experience in area business offices, proves that our department is indeed flexible and in keeping with the modern trends.

Practice increases one's ability to type faster with fewer errors. Lynn Kirschke and Charlene Hendricks improve their typing skills during business education.

A Growing Tribute

The expanding Business Education Department of Boardman High School is excellent. The department has grown from three to seven highly skilled teachers who offer instruction in a variety of business courses which prepare graduates for professional careers. Students are fortunate to receive experience operating many business machines; in fact, the department is better equipped than most colleges. Curricular innovations keep business education abreast of the times; the introduction of the Cooperative Office Education program into the Boardman system this year provides on-the-job training in area business establishments while students are instructed by experts in the classroom.

This article cannot sufficiently describe the department's merits, but it can express regret at the loss of such a fine department head, Miss Georgeanna Parker, whose talent and leadership were instrumental in building a progressive business education department in the Boardman Schools. But only a part of her is gone; her plans, her dedication, and her standards of excellence will always remain.

Industrial Arts

Strengthening the constructive imagination of each student is one of the basic aims of the industrial art program. Mechanical drawing introduces the reading and writing language of the industries and attempts to develop the student's power of visualization. Utilizing his knowledge and ingenuity, the student may then move into machine, metal, plastics, wood, and cabinet shops, and electronics courses.

Home Economics

Home Economics attempts to resolve the problems of home management by familiarizing the student with the various aspects of homemaking, cooking, and sewing. As the student progresses with the courses, she is given more freedom to display her originality and creativity as a future homemaker.

Fine Arts Choral Music

The students of the Choral Music Department are given the opportunity to learn about vocal techniques and at the same time derive pleasure from these teachings. The harmony and perfection attained in the music room sharpens the senses and helps the students to understand more clearly the harmony in living.

Instrumental Music

The Instrumental Music Department aims to give an opportunity to every student, regardless of his ability, talent, or playing experience. It is, then, the cooperative effort of many types of students to enjoy and accept the challenge of the different styles of musical sound.

Freshmen Band members intensify their concentration in order to produce that perfect sound.

Art

The art and crafts classes serve as outlets for the student's constructive creative ability. He is taught to develop his sense of observation and, in his own style, to express with his hands what he has visualized in his mind.

Driver's Education

With the possible danger of more accidents because of so many drivers on the roads today, it is important that every youth enrolls in the driver's education class. The course attempts to coordinate the patterns of the student's mind and body with the operational mechanics of driving. If the student passes with a grade average of C or better, he qualifies for a reduced insurance rate.

N.H.S.

Culminating years of hard work and achievement is the National Honor Society Assembly where selected juniors and seniors are inducted into this honorary organization. Basing their decisions upon the "N.H.S. Creed"—scholarship, service, character, and leadership, our faculty selected forty-one seniors and twenty-four juniors to join students across the country who share membership in this distinguished group.

With the reciting of the solemn vow, the National Honor Society members not only attain a position of honor, but also pledge to uphold the high ideals of the organization throughout their lives.

Jim Oesch explains the characteristic of service—one of the four virtues of an N.H.S. member.

At the N.H.S. breakfast, Gary Doles entertains his colleagues, Fred Yoshua and Abe Lieberman, with a lecture on differential equations.

The receiving of the N.H.S. pin and the lighted candle are a part of the solemn ceremony which honors outstanding students.

Buckeye Boys' and Girls' State

Americanism has been the core of Buckeye State from its beginning. The girls and boys who participate are instructed in the knowledge of patriotism and government—federal, state, and local. A series of lectures, assemblies, and films prepares each participant for the place in government he will hold at the conference.

Boys' State places its emphasis on the challenges of politics and the functions of governing officials. It stresses the importance of a thorough knowledge of all the aspects involved in choosing and holding public office.

Girls' State concerns itself with the role women play in government. The importance of female involvement, whether it be directly or through the right of free vote, is part of America's heritage.

In one short comprehensive week of activities, the girls, on the campus of Capital University in Columbus, and the boys, at Ohio University in Athens, obtain experience which shall benefit them throughout their lives.

Quill and Scroll

In 1961 Boardman High School received a charter to start a chapter of Quill and Scroll, the National Honor Society for outstanding high school journalists. In the spring of the year, those juniors and seniors who have taken an active part in the production of the school paper or yearbook are inducted into this honorary association.

Student Council

Serving as a vital link in a chain of school events since 1947, Student Council was organized as a means of achieving closer cooperation between the student body and the administration. Since this organization provides a healthy outlet for students to express their opinions and grievances, it is instrumental in revising various school policies and initiating new rules to replace outdated ones.

A unique change in Boardman's traditional social events was the addition of a computer dance sponsored by Student Council. Spartans were matched up with Liberty High students as well as other Boardmanites, and the result was a tremendous success in spite of a mid-winter snowstorm.

Income from the computer dance plus the sale of basketball programs comprised the treasury. Donations were made to various B.H.S. organizations, to the Red Cross and U.S. Olympic Team, and also to the Sue Schrader fund.

Spartan Council

In 1961, an organization was set up, which would develop and promote the social life at B.H.S. This organization became known as Spartan Council. Since then, dances, following football and basketball games and also on open weekends, have been sponsored by the Council. Originally a branch of Student Council, Spartan Council since has become a wholly independent organization; however, this year Spartan Council once again was affiliated with Student Council. The constitution and membership rules have been revised, and the purposes of the club have been renovated. Although still an active organization, the need for further social activities is not as intense as it once was. Thus, Spartan Council has taken on new goals, and helps provide other clubs of B.H.S. with financial assistance in order to keep Boardman's extra curricular activities unincumbered by debt and functioning for the benefit of the students.

AFS

The American Field Service started originally during W.W. I, as concerned American youths volunteered to drive ambulances in the war-torn country of France. Their interest in the people of that nation generated the basis of an understanding through which peace might someday be achieved. After the war, there was a strong desire by many people to expand this program to include many other nations and to exchange high school students, so that each country might gain some understanding of the other. This is the foundation upon which the present A.F.S. organization is built.

Viking blood invaded Boardman this year. Anders Barsk, from Stockholm, Sweden, traveled to the U.S. to become a member of the Dr. George Cook family. Anders easily adapted to his family's activities because of his interest and ability in skiing. His studies this year included English, American History, P.O.D., Math V, Physics, and Gym. Among his extra-curricular activities were Student Council, A.F.S., and Cross Country.

Anders' reaction to the United States has been a favorable one. The friendships and experiences he has gained will be valuable assets to him when he returns to Sweden at the end of the year. It is hoped that through our relationship with Anders, he has gained some understanding of the United States, as we have of Sweden.

The active Cook family spend a rare evening relaxing around the T.V.

Americans Abroad

On July 19 of this coming summer, Doug Clark will leave for Rancagua, Chile. His year of study in South America is made possible through a Rotary Scholarship. As yet, plans are not complete and the family with whom Doug will stay is not known. However, Doug has already started preparing for his trip by learning Spanish as well as studying the customs of the country which will be his future home.

A junior at B.H.S., Doug Clark was selected as the candidate for the Rotary Exchange Program.

Under the American Field Service program, the U.S. receives students from foreign lands, and sends its students to foreign lands in return. These countries cannot take more than a third of the U.S. students who qualify, therefore, the competition for placement is keen.

This year Boardman was fortunate in having Michael Small chosen to go abroad for the summer program. Mike will leave from New York on June 21 for Fourmies, France, which is a small town near the Belgian border. He will live with the Michael Sanchis family for approximately nine weeks.

Mike, a junior, has been an honor student at Boardman and was elected to the National Honor Society. His extra-curricular activities include French Club, Student Council, and the Debate Team. Mike was to represent Boardman at Buckeye Boy's State this summer, but he will be leaving for France before he can participate.

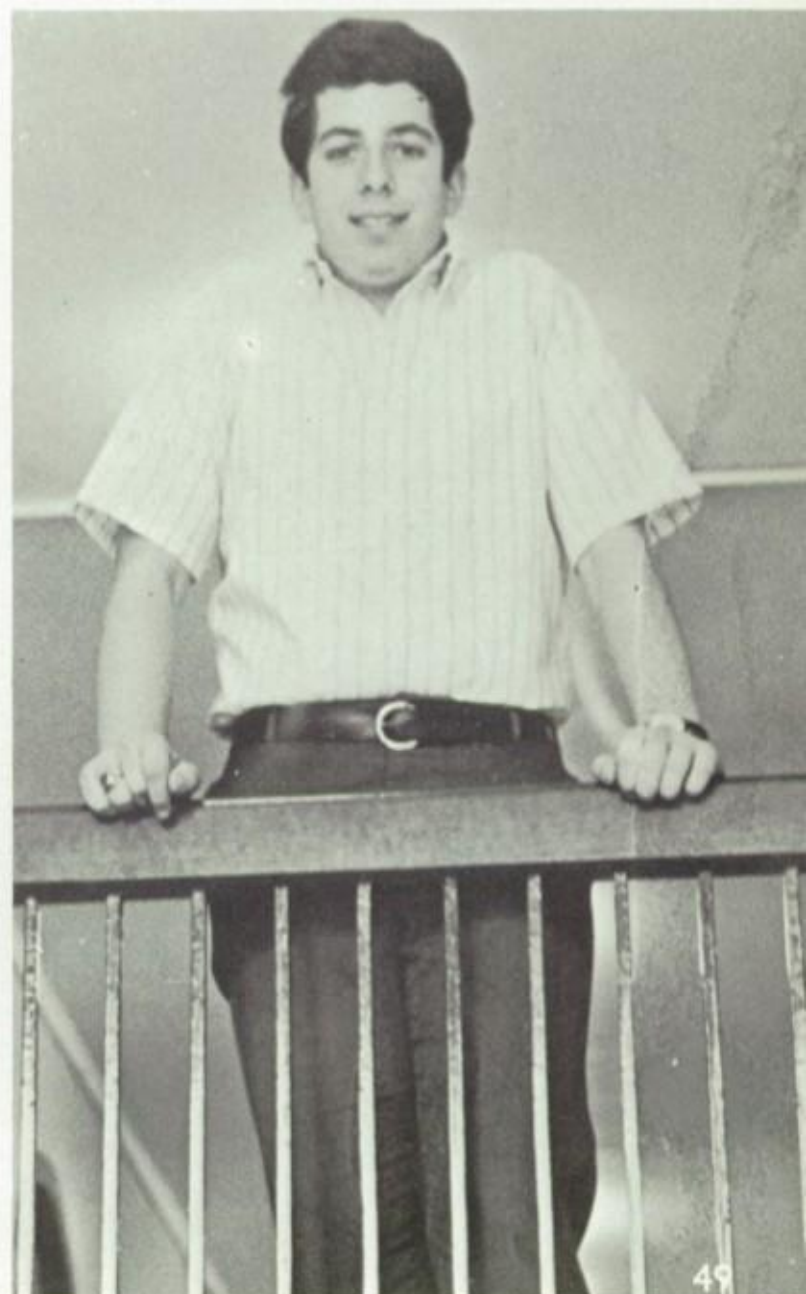

Reprinted from the Scandinavian newspaper, Stavanger-Aftenblad, this picture shows that Gina has continued her study of music in Norway.

A desire to study ballet abroad took Gina Werbner to Norway where she is spending her senior year. After corresponding with the Olson family in Sandnes, the Werbners made arrangements to send their daughter to live with the Olsons, while Marta Olson stayed with the Werbner family.

Gina is studying Norwegian, German, and English at the Sandnes Gymnas. In addition to pursuing her interest in modern ballet, Gina plays in the orchestra which was also one of her classes at B.H.S.

France will host Boardman's A.F.S. student, Mike Small, this coming year.

Students From Other Lands

From the young nation of Israel has come Cvi Wiesel. His main interest in coming to the United States is to take part in our fine educational system. Cvi is living with his uncle, Cantor Karl Klein. The young Israeli is a "sabre," or native-born Israelite.

Cvi's subjects this year are American History, Algebra II, English, Chemistry, and gym. When he graduates with the class of '69, he plans to return to Israel to attend a Hebrew university. Before he can do this, however, he will have to join the army and do his part in helping to preserve his country's freedom.

Cvi Wiesel, a junior this year, takes advantage of the facilities in the reading center.

Blonde-haired, blue-eyed Marta Olson came to Boardman from Sandnes, Norway. She is living with the Dr. I. Werbner family, whose own daughter, Gina, has gone to study in Norway, and is residing with the Olson family for the year. Marta's friendly personality has added greatly to the atmosphere at Boardman.

Marta's subjects this year have included English, German, American History, biology, and gym. She enjoys singing in A Capella Choir and is active in such extracurricular activities as German Club and G.A.A. When Marta returns to Norway at the end of the school year, she will still have three more years of school left. After finishing her schooling, she plans to become a physical therapist and help handicapped children in Norway.

Marta tells the student body the differences in the educational system of her homeland and ours.

Latin Club

"Senatus Populusque Romanus" "The Senate and the Roman people." This motto of the Roman State is what "E Pluribus Unum" ("One out of many") is to the United States. So, too, it is the motto of Boardman High's Latin Club. Since 1956, Latin II, III, and IV students have taken part in some of the enjoyable pursuits of the ancient Romans.

The Saturnalia Party, which is as near to Christmas as the heathen Romans got, was held at the end of November. Singing Christmas carols in Latin and viewing a short play comprised the entertainment for this festivity. As in past years, Latin Club sponsored a full-length movie, this year's entitled "Gold for the Caesars." The club's last big celebration of the year was the annual Roman Banquet held in April. After the grand procession of Senators, who are advanced students, came the dinner which was eaten in true Roman fashion—without any utensils. Entertainment for Emperor Jack Hay and Empress Mary Beth Babcock, included Greek slave dancers, The New Forum Singers who sang their Latin rendition of "The Sound of Music," and an amusing play called "Rinse the Blood Off My Toga."

Seated: Gerry Moss, secretary-treasurer. Standing: Jack Hay, president; Mary Beth Babcock, first consul; Laura Pilz, publicity.

French Club

The fifteen-year-old French Club, like all other language groups, unites its members with the common bonds of language, culture, and food. After burning the traditional Yule Log to celebrate the "Fete de Noel," they displayed some of that creative French spirit by inventing and performing group skits. Following the entertainment, the judges decided that the senior group was the most talented, and economy-size lollipops were awarded to the fine French actors.

As in past years, the skits and music incorporated into the monthly meetings were appropriately correlated with holidays celebrated in France. However, the trend in music has changed from singing traditional folk songs to concentrating upon the more popular songs of France.

The activities of French Club officially came to an end May 9, with a banquet at Raver's. A delicious dinner plus an amusing program, "Rire-In," completed a French year.

Seated: Jeannine King, second vice-president; Jan Hartman, treasurer.
Standing: Linda Foster, secretary; Sharon Prizant, president; Dave Arnett, first vice-president.

Fun and food teamed together made the French Club Banquet unforgettable.

Spanish Club

"Los Compañeros," or "the Companions," familiarizes each member with the customs and arts of Spain and Latin America. By conducting the meetings entirely in Spanish, the club encourages the practical use of this language by the students.

At one meeting, the club was fortunate in having Señor Lorenzo Dorador, from Argentina, to speak about his homeland. In December, the club held its annual "Fiesta de Navidad" which included a play presented by fourth year students, a dinner of Spanish-Mexican food, Christmas carols, and the breaking of the piñata. "Las Aventuras de Joselito y Pulgarcito," a Mexican film, was viewed in March. Ending the year's festive activities was an informal outing in Boardman Park.

The fourth year Spanish students, represented here with Chris Chengelis and Rick Docherty, performed "So This Is Mexico" at their fiesta.

German Club

Der Deutsche Verein enables students to acquire a greater understanding and respect for the customs of Germany as well as the German language itself. The club's many social activities included the traditional Christmas fest, a sing-a-long, and the annual picnic. Also highlighting the year were the presentations of movies, slides and special guest speakers. These speakers, including Jill McClain, the A.F.S. student from Austin-town Fitch, and Dr. Robert Wart, head of the Youngstown State University Modern Language Department, greatly supplemented the informative programs of the club.

Russian Folk Group

Meeting informally once a week after school, those students belonging to the Russian Folk Group learn to play the folk tunes sung in class. Producing these Russian sounds are Linda Friedrich playing the accordion, Phil Jones on the guitar, Miss Zagorec in charge of the mandolin, and Mrs. Dellone, Pam Arbogast, Debbie Rumble, Sue Milligan, and Diane Ross not only handling the balalaika, but being able to pronounce it as well.

Although the Crier reports it now as a group meeting just for fun, perhaps someday it will become a permanent folk club at B.H.S.

Future Homemakers of America

"Learning to live better today in order that our lives and those of our families may be better tomorrow"—is the goal of F.H.A. which enables a girl to work toward greater maturity through an understanding of herself and others. Boardman's club, only one of many in the national organization, is open to any girl who has completed or is enrolled in a home economics course.

Guest speakers at monthly meetings, a service project benefiting the Youngstown Society for the Blind, an all-day field trip in the spring, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet in May accentuated the club's activities during the year.

Future Teachers of America

To bridge the gap between students and faculty, student teachers were invited to the monthly meetings to speak on the various aspects of their teaching experiences. By attending these meetings, grading papers, and tutoring students who need extra help, the future teachers earned credits enabling them to teach one day in the spring at the Junior High or one of the elementary schools.

Showing their appreciation of the entire faculty, F.T.A. members presented the teachers with small gifts in November during National Education week and again in April, which is Teaching Career month. Their social calendar included the October dance, "Scarecrow Hop," and the annual spring banquet.

Seated: Mary Ann Napolitan, secretary; Carol Keppler, vice-president; Jim Oesch, president. Standing: Alana Alm, treasurer.

Business Club

Are you interested in the bustling business world? If so, the Business Club is for you! Because speakers familiarize club members with modern progressive business methods, a better understanding of business policies is brought about.

The members are not so completely wrapped up in their own business they have forgotten about others. During the Christmas season a white elephant sale was held, and with the money that was earned a dinner was provided for a needy family. One of the year's most colorful events was the Spring Banquet, which honored senior members.

Seated: Patti Jo Grant, president. Standing: Barb Budinsky, secretary; Nancy Housteau, reporter.

Cooperative Office Education

Boardman High is fortunate in being one of four area high schools participating in Cooperative Office Education. Top commercial students seeking full-time employment after graduation, or academic commercial students preparing to work their way through college, are given the opportunity to adjust to the demanding practices of business.

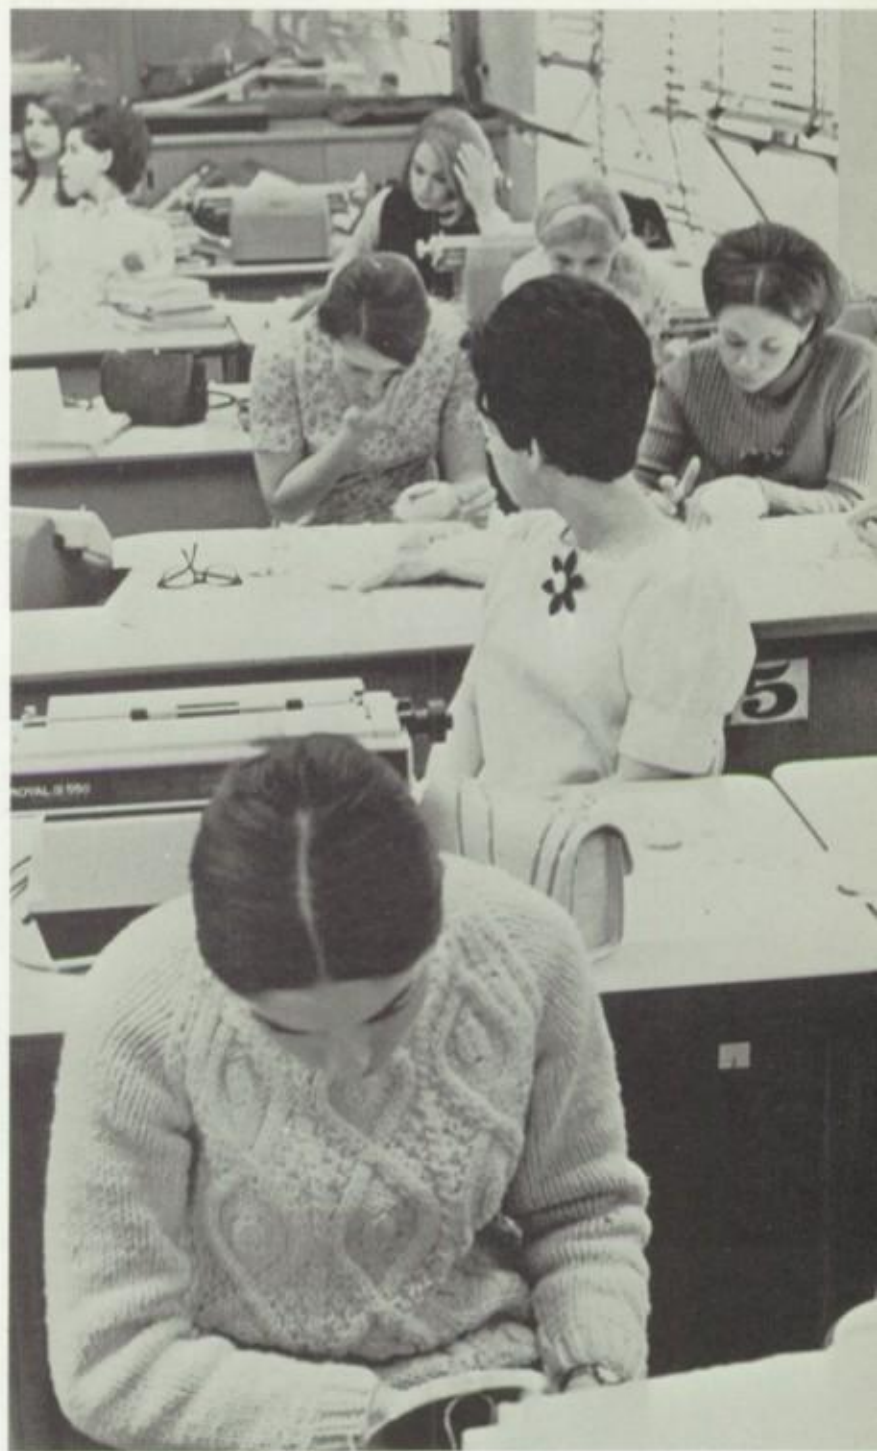

Double standards, those of the school as well as those of the job, are imposed, for the student goes to school half a day and works on the job half a day with teacher-employer supervision. A course such as this emphasizes the individual skills, knowledge, and attitudes in the stenographic, clerical, and bookkeeping areas. This year there was space for only one C.O.E. course. Since the program offers the student an almost unlimited future, at least three such classes will be made available in the new high school.

Art Club

To observe, to create, to understand, and to appreciate art are the common interests of Art Club members. The many projects of this club included sponsoring a pumpkin-sculpting contest, making Christmas ornaments for teachers, silk-screening pennants for Homecoming, and holding a theater-dinner party in the spring. Art Club also initiated the Holiday Boutique which proved to be very successful as well as profitable for members who sold their art work. Capturing the school's theme of "Americanism," Bohemian Ball decorations turned the junior high gym into "Staten Stars and Stripes." Completing the club's busy schedule was the members' participation in the Akron, McKelvey's, and Boardman High School Art Shows.

Photo Arts

First organized in 1946 with only an old German view camera as equipment, the Photo Arts Club now has one of the finest laboratories in the state. Only thirty-five members are permitted to join; each of whom enters the club as a third class photographer. He may, however, progress to second or first class, depending upon his success in intra-school contests throughout the year. From these contests, the best photographs for competition are displayed in the annual Art and Photography Show.

Science Club

Science Club is just as much a part of the routine of a science student as dissecting a frog, doing complicated experiments, or memorizing tedious formulas. Through lectures, films, and field trips scientific study becomes an adventurous experience.

This year's club hosted the Science Forums, whose theme was "The Geology of Northeastern Ohio and Petro-Chemistry." This gave the students an opportunity to recognize the scientific aspects of our community.

Seated: Joyce Lesigonich, librarian; Fred Yosua, vice-president; Martin Cohen, president; Cassie Baughman, secretary.
Standing: Roy Bieber, treasurer.

Chess Club

"Checkmate" is a familiar term to the winning members of A.B.C. or the Association of Boardman Chessmen. This club was formed in 1964 so that its members could become better chess players and derive more enjoyment of chess through a better understanding of the game. The players participate in both intra-club and interscholastic tournaments during the year.

Avida Y-Teens

Boardman's Avida Y-Teens, a service and social organization associated with the YWCA, was initiated in 1927 as the Girls' Reserves. Since its beginning, the group which is open to both junior and senior girls, has taken part in various service projects in the community. In December the girls took Christmas trees to Namesniks' Nursing Home. The club also sponsored several social activities during the year. In November the carnival with the theme "Chinatown" transformed the boys' gym into a real Oriental "happening." Again in February, the annual Sweetheart Ball set the romantic mood with "Roses in Candlelight."

Collega Y-Teens

Sophomore girls have the opportunity of joining a social and service club corresponding to the Avida group. Collega members gain a knowledge of the functions and importance of the YWCA affiliated groups by participating in the many programs throughout the year. The sophomores held a fashion show to which the entire school was invited, and created candy-filled Christmas boots for a local nursing home.

Hi-Y

Anyone for skiing? The Junior-Senior Hi-Y Club made it possible for any B.H.S. student to glide down the snowy slopes of Peek 'n Peak Ski Lodge in New York or Blue Knobb in Pennsylvania. Several members of this older group also participated in the city-wide civic day. Boys belonging to Hi-Y clubs all over Youngstown were elected to public offices for one day.

The underclassmen have their own group called Freshman-Sophomore Club. Like the upperclassmen, they are affiliated with the YMCA where they compete in various sports with other school leagues. The bi-monthly meetings include gym nights or both clubs.

Ready for the slopes are Terri Hardin, Anders Barsk, Bill Cook, Becky Barrett, Sandy Kessler, Frank Berezo, Barb Hartley.

Girls' Boosters

Those clever little signs which appear almost anywhere around school on Fridays before the "big game" are created by members of the Girls' Boosters. This club welcomes any girl possessing spirit and enthusiasm for Boardman's athletic teams. Boosters concerns itself primarily with promoting school spirit, whether it be by decorating the halls, organizing pep rallies, giving little gifts to team members, or just cheering loudly in the stands.

To organize all the club's activities, Boosters met once a month. Many times a coach attended the meeting and based his talk on the particular sport of that season. Also, at one of the meetings the wrestling team put on an exhibition for the girls. By attending these meetings the girls are given an opportunity to learn and understand the techniques of the seasonal sport.

Jan Massaro was the mystery person under the Spartan head.

Red Cross Club

Helping underprivileged individuals or troubled areas is the major concern of the nationwide organization of the American Red Cross. The B.H.S. branch, affiliated with the adult chapter, has promoted this cause through their active work in many service projects and fund-raising campaigns.

Service projects this year included planning an Easter party at the Little Forest Medical Center and making sack dolls for children in disaster areas. Mr. Arnold, who spoke on Red Cross in Viet Nam, and Ernie Plant, who talked about Project Gap in Appalachia, were two of the speakers at the bi-monthly meetings. Occasionally the service project corresponds with the speaker. Reverend Frost talked to the members about the Pearl Street Mission, and the club held a window wash to raise money for it.

Literature Club

Not everything is dated or in the recall classification this anniversary year. A new group was born with twelve charter members making up the roster of the Literature Club. Mrs. Flesher and Mrs. Roth are the moderator-advisors for the classic book reviews which are given fortnightly.

Advisors of the Great Books Club, Mrs. Roth and Mrs. Flesher, discuss Shakespeare's Hamlet with two active members, Lynn Gasser and Pam Arbogast.

Gym Cadets

"Athletic" and "energetic" are the two words which are most descriptive of the gym cadets. Down on the gym floor they take attendance and serve as guinea pigs to demonstrate difficult stunts. Marking down whether or not gym clothes are clean or refereeing a basketball game, the gym cadets provide a service as well as keeping their own bodies physically fit.

Every gym student is taught to HONOR and OBEY his gym cadet, and such is the case with Bob Conrad, Greg Crowley, Tim Baird, and Chris Chengelis.

G.A.A.

The Girls' Athletic Association consisted of one hundred and fifty girls who participated in various fields of athletics while learning good sportsmanship. Members competed in intramural games and in tournaments with other schools in such sports as volleyball, basketball, track, baseball, and bowling. At the annual banquet, held at the Golden Steer in April, awards were given to outstanding individuals and teams, and the newly-chosen officers were installed.

Diane Hutko—toes pointed, back arched, and eyes straight ahead—demonstrates a perfect eagle catch which aided her in capturing first place in the Preliminary Junior Olympics and sixth in the Junior Olympics uneven parallel bars competition.

Gymnastics Club

Through the combined efforts of the girls and their trainers, Mrs. Vanish and Miss Moss, the Gymnastics Club entered its fourth season of competition. Workouts in the girls' gym after school every evening prepared the girls for apparatus and free-exercise routines. The use of the balance beams, the parallel bars, and the vaulting horse perfected the skills of the experienced girls and helped to develop the coordination of the club's newcomers.

In February, all our gymnasts placed in the top 40% at the Preliminary Junior Olympics in Akron. The final results of the Lake Erie A.A.U. Junior Olympics placed Boardman's Intermediate team sixth and the senior team fifth with all members finishing in the top 20% of each division.

Language Lab Assistants

Who is always tampering with the tapes while you are trying to concentrate on your pronunciation in a foreign language? He is the language lab assistant who sees that all thirty-one response units are in working order. Besides helping teachers with their classes in the lab, he is also available to set up tapes for the student wishing to use the lab during a study hall.

Science Lab Assistants

Science students may have noticed an extra person setting up experiments and cleaning implements in their classes. These duties of the lab assistant plus their unseen tasks of grading papers or recording grades increase the efficiency of the science department.

Audio Visual Assistants

The student staff of the audio visual department works in cooperation with the faculty, in providing the teachers with filmstrips and equipment. The program this year has been expanded to include a complete library of films and tapes. Monthly film schedules are published and up-to-date records of available visual aids are kept.

Social Studies Office Force

The social studies office force is a new addition to the services of B. H. S. These girls aid the history department by typing test forms and offering help in grading papers. This gives the teachers more time to prepare and present information for class study.

Kaybees

Kaybees, "Keepers of the Books," has been a prominent club in Boardman High School for the past twenty years. The members of this organization are helpful to the entire student body. Their duties range from cataloging cards and materials to checking out books. The experience gained from this voluntary job will be of great help to these students, interested in the rapidly expanding field of library work.

Office Forces

Although their speed will never qualify them for the track team, the office workers are constantly running about delivering attendance reports, telephone messages, and those dreaded white slips. Between these hurried trips to classrooms, they have plenty of work to do in the offices themselves. Whether it means sorting mail in the main office or selling tickets in the athletic office, the numerous little jobs make it a busy period for the office girls.

Nurse's Monitors

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away" and so do our medically-prone nurse's monitors. Sacrificing their study halls to help Mrs. Mead in the health room, the girls keep a record of all students requiring treatment. In an emergency, they may also be called upon to administer first aid.

P. A. Operators

Those voices heard every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday morning announcing important school events belong to the P.A. Operators. Although well-hidden behind all the apparatus, these boys, under the instruction of Mr. Dykins, are necessary to inform the student body of "what's happening" at Boardman High.

Stagecraft

With an appreciation for the theater arts, members of Stagecraft entertain themselves with discussions on current plays. Through their many guest speakers and attendance to various dress rehearsals of plays throughout the area, the students gain a greater knowledge of the complex work which goes into a successful stage production.

Stage and Lighting Crews

Every play needs atmosphere, and the mood is not created by words alone. A dramatic night, a violent storm, and bright daylight are all the results of the technical know-how of the lighting crew. The scenery and props are designed, assembled, and arranged by the creative members of the stagecrew. Working together with the performers and directors, both crews study each presentation and experiment with various stage effects, so that, in the end, an appropriate and imaginative setting is achieved.

Speech Team

Practicing relentlessly for many hours has been worth it! Our speech team captured the National Forensic League District Title this year, accumulating the most points ever in the District's history.

Seven speakers qualified for the Ohio Speech League State Contest in Columbus. Out of these seven finalists, two finished third, one placed second, and Laura Pilz became Boardman's first State Champion with a victory in Girls' Extemp. As a result of this victory, Laura will attend the National Contest this summer along with Brad Woodworth who placed first in NFL Boys' Extemp.

Speech team spirit was at a peak this year. And it was this very spirit which motivated team members to get up early every Saturday morning ... to journey on a bus ... to speak at contests ... and to win!

Seated: Jan Hartman, captain of humorous and dramatics. Standing: Linda Olson, captain of original and oratorical declamation; James Kessler, captain of individual events; Sharon Prizant, captain of extemp.

Extemp

In the field of Extemp, facts and figures are worthless unless skillfully applied to the Extemp's five to seven minute speech. The thirty to forty minutes of preparation before each round of competition is only a small fraction of time as compared to the actual hours needed to be a successful speaker.

The Extemp Team has won at least one trophy at every contest—quite an admirable record. If you want to test any of the members, just ask them to tell you about the Pueblo crisis, the 10% surcharge, or the upcoming election and then be prepared to listen!

Debate

"Resolved: That Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures."

This was the topic chosen for 1967-68 by the National Forensic League. Our Debaters, as well as those all over the country analyzed the resolution ... did thorough research ... planned cases and rebuttals supporting their arguments.

Time consuming as it is, debating is an intellectual habit which enriches the student. In a world such as ours today, one must have convictions and be able to support them.

Humorous and Dramatics

Off to the world of make-believe, where reality and fantasy merge—this is an actor's world. Those competing in Humorous or Dramatics are forced to assume new roles and project strong characters. The student must become completely involved with the character he is portraying so that he achieves a convincing presentation. Thus, the line between fantasy and reality is thin.

Oratorical Declamation and Original Oratory

Eight to ten minutes may seem like a long time to talk, but when standing up before a roomful of contestants and a judge, time does not drag. The O.D.'er delivers a memorized oration that someone else has written, and with the use of voice inflection, pauses, gestures, and facial expressions he offers his own interpretation of the speech.

Original Oratory is the only division which allows the participant to make use of his writing talents. At the beginning of the year an original speech is written; the subject can be almost anything. It is then memorized and presented. Not only is the O.O. speaker judged on his delivery, but on the basis of speech content and construction, as well.

B.H.S. Speech Team Ranks First in Ohio

Laura Pilz has a lot to smile about—she returned from Columbus bearing the title of "State Champion" in Girls' Extemp. Boardman's first State Champ is only a sophomore—the Speech Team comedians voted her the "girl with the least potential."

The Bugle

Bet you haven't heard about the scandal! It happened about fifty years ago, but up until now it's been kept hush-hush. Since this is our Fiftieth Anniversary, we'll bring it out into the open. The scandal going around Boardman was a scandal sheet—a school paper in its most primitive form. The sheet was passed around once a week and bits of pertinent news were added by the students. As the years progressed however, Boardman High decided to replace the scandal sheet with a better instrument of communication—the Bugle. And so in 1934 the first Bugle went to press, with Miss Alice Smith as its staff advisor. Since then there have been no strikes, and the Boardman Bugle is still the most popular newspaper among high school students!

Harmony

The feelings of involvement and accomplishments are elusive for the high school student since he often finds he is too young or too inexperienced to be given the responsibility of doing a job by himself. However, in the Choral Music Department, the student's desire to be given responsibility and to achieve a worthwhile goal is fulfilled. The choral member is obligated solely to himself for learning a piece of music and singing it expressively so that a listener feels some kind of emotion as a result. This is especially true in choir, the most advanced group. The director provides the choir members with the tools for singing—a knowledge of rhythm, note intervals, chords, harmony, dynamics—and the student learns to use them. The result of this application was a moving Candlelight Concert at Christmastime and a stirring "Salute to Singing" in the spring.

Because of Choir's high standard of excellence, the group was often asked to perform at community functions and for such organizations as the Youngstown Rotary and the Boardman Kiwanis. Certain members took part in the Mahoning County Music Festival, where students from schools throughout the county met, rehearsed, and presented a concert. The entire choir also served the school by performing for Veteran's Day, the National Honor Society Assembly, and Baccalaureate.

Gentlemen's Glee

The foremost lesson that the members of the Gentlemen's Glee Club are taught is that good singing does not come easily or naturally. Most of the boys undergo a voice change during the year. They find that part of the time they can still hit the high soprano notes which they sang in adolescence while the rest of the time their voices take on a new resonance and maturity as they sing the bass notes that indicate early manhood. One day they may be at either extreme and the next in between. Thus, they find it hard to read the music since there is so much more on which to concentrate besides hitting the right notes. However, the boys practice intensely and a remarkable change is indicated by the difference of their caliber of singing at the Christmas Concert and the Spring Festival. By spring, the majority of voices have changed, and the boys have found their personal ranges. They have discovered also that all the trouble they have had and all the extra work it took to create a good sound has made their music more worthwhile and fun.

Girls' Glee

Although girls do not undergo the major voice change that boys do, they must learn to develop their natural ranges more fully. In Girls' Glee Chorus, the members learn that there is no physical reason why an alto cannot sing soprano or vice versa. The only difference in the sound is that the soprano or high notes will have a heavier quality when an alto sings them, and a lighter quality when the soprano does. The majority of the time, members sing their own parts in which they can reach notes most easily and concentrate on sight-reading eight-part harmony. Harmony, for the girls, does not always mean pleasant sounding, perfect chords, for it also includes dissonants which require extra musical knowledge to sing correctly. The eighty-one voices in the chorus always manage to give an excellent performance in the concerts. The girls lent a new look to these choral assemblies when they appeared in their new gold blazers worn with white turtleneck sweaters. The purchasing of these outfits was made possible through the efforts of the entire Choral Music Department and especially the Girls' Glee officers who included Vivian Halberg, president; Linda Emerick, secretary; Mary Hamitt, treasurer; and Judy Brick, publicity chairman.

Mixed Chorus

Mixed Chorus is one of the three choral groups in the music department which trains the choral student for the most advanced and honored group, A Capella Choir. In mixed chorus the student learns that music is like a language, with notes instead of words. The written notes are read by the singer and interpreted in such a way as to produce sounds which should be pleasing to the listener. He also finds that through singing, it is possible to convey joy, sorrow, nobility, beauty, and other ideas and emotions which are difficult to express in words alone. He soon realizes that he must develop his skills in rhythm, melody, harmony, and form so that the eighty-eight voices of mixed chorus blend together. Not only does the chorus member learn how to sing, but he acquires an appreciation for all types of music from contemporary songs to classical and religious music.

Choral Librarians

There are a myriad of tasks that must be done to assure the orderly running of the Choral Music Department. The choral librarians do the many small jobs, such as filing and repairing music, checking papers and grades, and straightening the chairs in the choral room, that the directors, Mrs. Humphrey and Mr. Drotleff, would normally have to do. Thus, the librarians free the teachers' schedules for the more important job of musical instruction.

Ensembles

Offering a change from the sound of the one hundred and eleven voices of A Cappella Choir, the members of the Girls' and Boys' Ensembles blend their twenty voices together producing a perfectly balanced sound. Although the Ensembles lack the choir's volume, they surpass the larger group in their clarity of diction and purity of sound. The reason for their superiority is that the Ensemble members are chosen on the basis of their ability to sing harmoniously with others. A choir member wishing to be in Ensemble must have a better than average voice but not one of such solo quality that it stands out in a group. The choice of the Ensemble members is the primary key to their success, but the long hours of practice add the finish that makes the Girls' and Boys' Ensembles uncomparable groups.

Among those whom the Ensembles entertained were the members of the teacher's sorority Delta Kappa Gamma, the Lions' Club, and the Republican supporters of Walter Paulo.

Golden Tones and Melodies Varsity Band

The 1967-68 Varsity Band began its season with an unprecedented number of new members. But, at Camp Lambec last August, senior leadership and overall determination for perfection created one of the state's finest marching bands. The undaunted "spirit of '68" led the organization through successful shows at the Canfield

Fair, football games, pep rallies, a special appearance at a Hiram College football game, and at the grand opening of Cedar Point.

One of the noblest achievements in which the Boardman High School Marching Band can take pride was the raising of $13,000 in September for the Sue Schrader Fund.

Symphonic Band

The Symphonic Band is the elite group of Boardman musicians. Their repertoire comes from the finest of college material available, including music from all periods as well as contemporary styles so prevalent today. The young musicians participated in the District Band Contest at Howland High School, a Christmas program at Woodside Receiving Hospital, and BHS commencement exercises.

Forty select members of this group combined to form the Wind Ensemble which features a precise and different sound. The future promises much success to this new organization.

Concert Band

The Concert Band consists primarily of younger Marching Band musicians who receive excellent experience and training both musically and technically. Their sound has vastly improved, and their future as Symphonic Band members is very promising.

Orchestra

Consisting of string, small wind, and small percussion instruments, the 1967-68 orchestra performed service activities both in school and in the community. Besides playing in the annual winter and spring concerts, the orchestra performed in the school Veteran's Day and National Honor Society assemblies, Camelot, and the B.H.S. 50th Anniversary evening. Together with orchestra students of other schools, members participated in the Mahoning County Orchestra Festival.

Freshman Band

Acting as the transition from junior high to Varsity Band, the Freshman Band offers the musical instruction and marching experience required for varsity band work. The freshmen participated in the Canfield Fair, home football half-time show, and the May contest at Boardman Junior High. All of these activities were valuable in their preparation for the Varsity Band.

Band Librarians

Majorettes and Drum Major

Even before the 1967-68 school year began, the B.H.S. majorettes were busy learning and perfecting their twirling and drill techniques. The girls, headed by Pat Gartner, attended majorette camps at Ogleby Institute and Bethany College in July and appeared at the Canfield Fair during Labor Day weekend. They took part in the school pep assemblies and the halftime shows during football season, and, for the first time in four years, performed during half-time at home basketball games.

As a drum major for only his second year, Jim Oesch served as assistant director of 350 high school and college drum majors at Smith Walbridge Camp in Indiana during the summer. At Boardman, he assisted Mr. Bame by charting and teaching marching shows in the fall, by giving commands to the band during half-time shows at football games, and by conducting the band at other times throughout the year. By himself and with the majorettes during the fall marching season, he displayed his twirling and marching talents at football half-time performances.

Homecoming '67

During the 1934 football season, Boardman High School held its first Football Prom, which became an annual event. Five years later, a new feature was added—the crowning of a Sports Queen. In 1947, this traditional night was officially renamed "Homecoming," and the chosen queen became Homecoming Queen.

Now, twenty years later, Queen Patti Jo Grant and her court Wendy Butz, Micki Mansfield, Karen Olson, and Karyn Schmies reigned over the 1967 festivities. After a Spartan victory over Hubbard, the ceremony continued with the dance, "Crowns and Chrysanthemums."

There is an old saying which states that on Valentine's Day of a leap year, girls are supposed to ask their favorite boys for a date. Avida Y-Teens' annual Sweetheart Ball was especially appropriate for this leap year since the girls invited the boys. The theme, "Roses in Candlelight," was carried through the decorations in black and white accented by thousands of red roses in the junior high gym.

During a candlelit ceremony, Pam Beaver and Bob Heaver crowned each other queen and king. Joined by the other members of the court, the royal couple danced to the queen's waltz provided by Jack Yarnell and his orchestra. The couples attending court included Jan Stepanovich with Dave Arnett, Hilary Soller with Doug Heuer, Joan Sherfel with Larry Hageman, and Joyce Lesigonich with Roger Kreps.

A variety of fashions were seen at Sweetheart Ball—Boardman's only semi-formal.

PTA Presents . . .

On March 5, 1968, alumni from the Boardman and Youngstown area returned to their alma mater to recall the "Golden Memories of Boardman High School," the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration. Vignettes, performed by some of the parents and students, were presented on the various phases of high school life such as a history of dancing. Mrs. Fred Soller and Mr. Dave Owen read jokes from the annuals of yesteryear between vignettes of slides also taken from past yearbooks. Mrs. Lawrence Pim, the former Alice Smith, read her winning essay of 1926 and proved that the problems of the teenagers today have not changed drastically since then.

Also joining in the activities were the A Capella Choir and the Band and Orchestra of B.H.S. The most impressive feature of the evening came when the choir and orchestra combined voices and instruments for the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" as gold-sprayed members of the Junior Leaders' Club of the Y.M.C.A. formed the well-known pose of the "Flag Raising at Iwo Jima." This anniversary celebration was an enjoyable and heart-warming way to commemorate fifty years of hard work, fun, and accomplishment at B.H.S.

Sis Soller not only told old yearbook jokes, but thought they were funny as well.

In vignettes, alumni recapture the past dance crazes; a waltz by Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen; the charleston by Mrs. French, Mrs. Brothers, Mr. Owen, Mrs. Stillson, and Mrs. King; the jitterbug by Mr. Sonoga and Miss Black.

M.C. Mr. Ted Conner interviews honored guests: Mrs. Myrtle Fulton, Mr. Jerome Hull, Dr. Allan Altdoerffer, Mr. George Barton.

Bohemian Ball

Boardman students who braved a last minute spring snowstorm on March 23 enjoyed the Art Club sponsored dance, "Staten Stars and Stripes." Portholes, ring-buoys, and white rope railings turned the junior high gym into an excursion boat midway on its trip around Staten Island. The Statue of Liberty towered at one end of the floor, and stars twinkled overhead, while back on the pier, the New Hudson Exit provided the music for the red, white, and blue crowd. Entertainment during the intermission included the Billy Earhart Dancers and the singing groups "Just Us" and "We Three."

The New Hudson Exit really rocked the boat!

Those who tired of dancing took in the sights from the deck of the Staten Island ferry.

Bohemian Ball provided a creative outlet for frustrations as well as costumes.

Art Show

Held on April 25th, the BHS Art Show was truly a fine accomplishment for art students. Art Club members set up their own show. The result was a highly successful showing of paintings, handcraft items, and graphic designs, many of which were sold by their student creators.

After judging the show, Mr. James J. Lepore, Assistant Professor at Youngstown State University, celebrated his birthday with a surprise cake bearing the words "Here cum da judge."

Art Club presented awards to the three seniors with the most accumulated points and to the two students with the highest number of points earned in the show. Prizes, given by Mrs. Deutsch and Mrs. Roth, were awarded to the first and second year winners, respectively. Also, two new awards, the floral and handcrafts prizes, were donated by the late Miss Georgeanna Parker.

Student evaluation proves as critical as the final rating by the judge.

Prize-winners of the 1968 Art show: Linda Beard, 1st year award; Art Einzig, 2nd year award; Marty York, highest number of points earned in show; Wendy Butz, 3rd place senior award; Marian Peck, 2nd place senior award; Edie Small, 1st place senior award.

Queen Guenevere, played by Rosemary Rumble, is torn between two emotions—her devotion to her husband, Arthur, and her love for Lancelot.

Mordred uses his evil charm to persuade his aunt, Morgan Le Fey, to build an invisible wall around the unwitting King Arthur.

Camelot

With the blaring of trumpets, Boardman's production of the Broadway musical, Camelot, opened on the evening of November 16. A cast, sensitive to the expectations of their roles, and a brilliant stage design made the Lerner and Loewe classic an unforgettable performance. Stealing the show during the fifth scene of Act I, an English sheepdog played the part of Pellinore's dog amusingly well.

Proceeds from the third annual musical, attended by an audience of 1881 theatergoers, benefited the American Field Service, the Choral Music Department, the Instrumental Music Department, and the Speech and Dramatics Department. Much of the credit for this successful play should be given to the directors: Mr. W. G. Dykins, stage director; Mr. J. R. Barron, technical director and choreographer; Mr. M. Court, assistant technical director; Mrs. E. E. Humphrey, choral director; and Mr. R. S. Bame, orchestral director.

A strange name—Spoon River Anthology— and an even stranger setting—a graveyard—were only small parts of the unusual and thought-provoking presentation sponsored by the seniors. The play, a creation of Edgar Lee Masters, was unique in that each performer assumed at least four different character roles. The poetic readings of the cast, coached and directed by William G. Dykins, were carried out in a background of folk music. All of these, including the title, setting, characterizations, music, and casting, contributed to the weird effect of the play—a sad and humorous awakening of the dead resulting in a startling awakening of the living.

Many glimpses and phases of Spoon River Anthology.

Steve Berman, in his role as the optometrist, tries out another "lens" on Mark Huberman as his other patients, Mary Lou Ballinger and Brad Woodworth, stand by.

Molly DeHetre and Mary Lou Ballinger think back on their "not so pure" lives as compared to the lives of the "good" preachers and judges of Spoon River.

The musicians, Sam Miller, Sheryl Mulne, Hilary Solter, and Susie Kessler, perform the beautiful and haunting theme song of the play, "Spoon River."

The Girls' and Boys' Ensembles combine to take the audience with them on a trip "Up, Up and Away."

Rosemary Rumble and Dave Wilson, Patti Jo Grant and Larry Cushing dance to the beat of a patriotic medley.

Salute to Singing

In keeping with the theme of Americanism that pervaded B.H.S. this year, the Choral Music Department presented a "Salute to Singing" on May 3. In their red, white, and blue outfits, the dancers of stage action performed such enjoyable numbers as "America" from West Side Story, "Teamwork," and "Ballad for Americans" which is a cantata about the history of America with the baritone soloist Rande Stefanski.

Outstanding selections of the choral music performance included: "Nothin' Like a Dame", sung by Boys' Glee, "Thoroughly Modern Millie" performed by Girls' Glee, "George M. Cohan's Patriotic Fantasy" by the Mixed Chorus, and "Fanfare For Americans" with trumpet accompaniment and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" both performed by the A Cappella Choir. The combined Choir Boys' and Girls' Ensembles added flavor to the program with their rendition of "Up, Up and Away." This grand effort and expression of patriotism terminated, for many, four years of choral experience.

Girls' Glee revisits the Roarin' Twenties in a rousing Charleston to the tune of "Thoroughly Modern Millie"—how modern can you get!

Lynne Listiak plays to the beat of the fife and drum.

Jim Ellashek, Wayne Verdenik, and Bill Eberhardt warm up by tuning their ears and their instruments to "Struttin' Strings."

Spirited Sound of '68

Under the direction of Richard S. Bame, the band gave its final performance of the year on May 17. The band members spent long hours in practice and the result was an excellent program, which was enjoyed by everyone.

Music was created by the various bands—the Orchestra, Wind Ensemble, Symphonic Band, Concert Band, and Freshman Band. All of the music is standard college repertoire, and the skill with which the band mastered it shows the excellence of the department.

The funds collected from the show go into the various awards offered by the music department and also to help pay the various entry fees placed on the band during their competition tours.

The fast tempo of Nelhybel's "Estampie" was accented by the explosive sounds of the drums.

The trumpets played by Lenny Carkido and Pete Andrews sound out Williams' "Sinfonians Symphonic March."

Prom Queen Kathy Billet

Dressed as little parlor maids of the "Old South," freshman servers look admiringly at members of the prom court, Paula Mead with Dean Chengelis and Shirley Fekett with Tim Baird.

'The Old South'

Captivated by the charm of Gone With the Wind, the junior class transformed the ballroom of Stambaugh Auditorium into a pink and purple flower-decked "Old South." The reigning queen for the long anticipated evening was Kathy Billet, crowned by last year's queen, Cathy McCallister. Attended by Shirley Fekett, Sue Kessler, Paula Mead, and Rosemary Rumble, Kathy was given the ceremonial kiss by Craig Lewis, the junior class president.

Bowling and billiards at the Wedgewood Lanes and dancing to the sounds of the "Pied Pipers" in the Gazebo Room comprised the after-prom entertainment, held during the early morning hours. Afterwards, for those who were still awake, a senior breakfast was given at Perkins Pancake House to terminate an unforgettable 1968 Junior-Senior Prom.

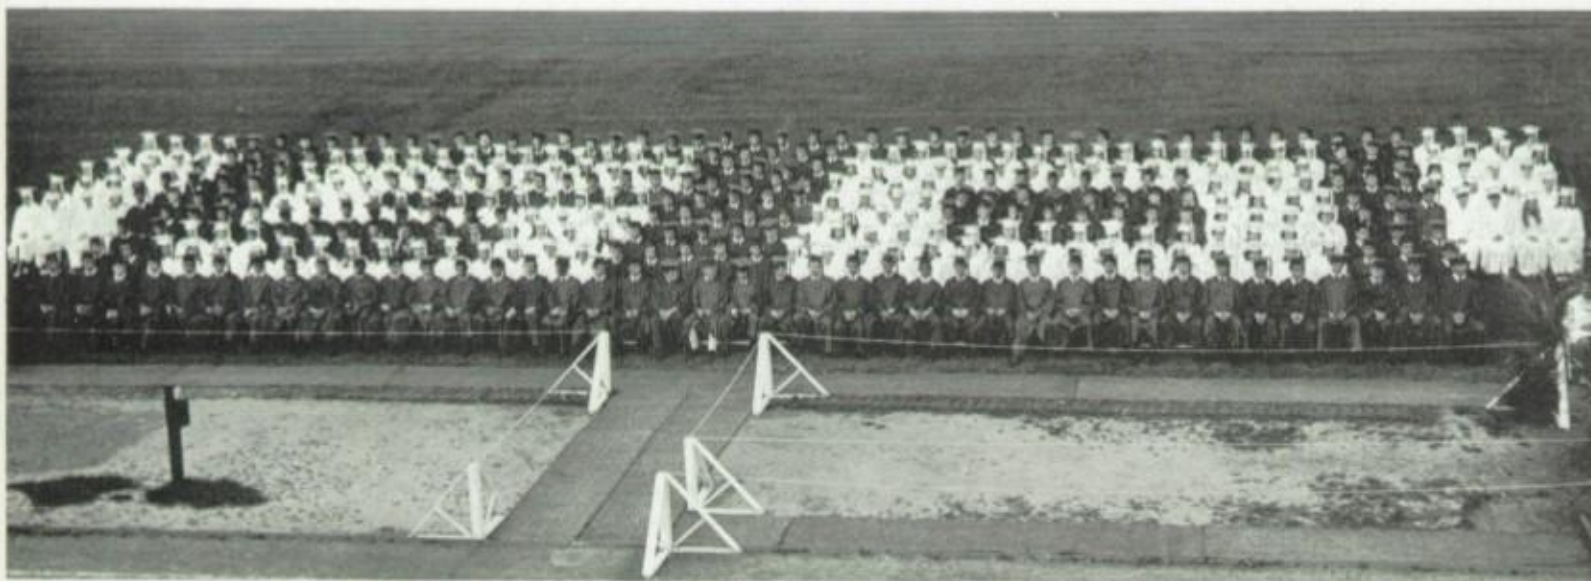

Susie Kessler and her escort, Rick Mastriana, and Rosemary Rumble with her date, Bob Sullivan, watch the crowning ceremony as the romantic air of the prom engulfs them.

Verdi's Grand March from "Aida" set the tempo for the processional.

Baccalaureate and Commencement

Fifty Years From One Beginning to Another

As the fiftieth class graduating from Boardman High, seniors of 1968 pass through both a golden anniversary and a gold gate leading to unimaginable future experiences. Inspired at Baccalaureate Services by the sermon of Reverend Judson C. McConnell, class of '51 and Dean of Chapel at Westminster College, the students were faced with the challenge of dreaming "The Impossible Dream."

At Commencement on Wednesday, June 5, in the high school stadium, the words of Reverend McConnell took on a greater meaning. As a history of Boardman High by Doug Heuer and a presentation of past graduates were given, the results of an "Impossible Dream" were evident. As the 415 seniors received their long-awaited diplomas, the past fifty years melted into the present as the present slowly passed into the future—a future of new beginnings of hopes, of plans, and of "Impossible Dreams."

Moments before the solemn processional, marshals Jan Rosenberger and Pat Wilson comfort the boys.

Varsity Football

After a tense opening game loss to Warren Western Reserve, the Boardman High Spartans came back to win six straight games before losing its final games to East Liverpool and Struthers. The determination of Coach Steve Sonoga and his assistants combined with the hard work of the entire squad resulted in the strong season for our team.

Don Wanick won the Hatchetman Award, exemplifying the top defensive effort, and Doug Heuer was named Spartan in honor of being the best offensive performer. Boardman placed five seniors on the All-Steel Valley Team. Captain Larry Wire and Don Wanick were chosen for the first team, while Forrest McCartney, Doug Heuer, and Don Weaver were cited for the second team.

The 1967 season marked the golden anniversary of football at Boardman. Coach Barton organized the first team in 1917 with Mr. George Bohn, currently our transportation director, playing half-back. In its history of football, Boardman has had many successful seasons and has won or tied many county, tri-county, and SVC championships.

The varsity team enters the field for the homecoming game.

J.V. Football

The learning experience of playing in a football game is invaluable in producing better players. With this idea in mind, the Junior Varsity and Sophomore football teams were created. The J.V.'s, coached by Mr. Rovnak, compiled a 1-4-1 record, while Mr. Saxton's sophomores ended the season with a 2-0 record.

Football is a game of technique. The coaching staff considered the freshman year as the best time to learn these skills and entrusted this training to Coach Jack Jones. His 1967 Freshman Football Team attained an impressive record of 6-1 which proves that the boys undoubtedly acquired the necessary skills.

Varsity Basketball

During the winter of 1914-15, the season in which the Mahoning County Basketball League was formed, Coach Barton, known as the "father of athletics" at B.H.S., organized Boardman's first basketball team. These players started out Boardman's history of fine athletic records by remaining undefeated throughout conference play.

The 1967-68 Varsity Basketball team compiled a ten and ten record, with a mark of nine wins and one loss at home. The highlight of the season was the 60-55 victory over arch-rival Struthers.

The team was led by Ray Mellot, an outstanding senior who scored 291 points with a remarkable 80% foul shooting average. This year's rebounding strength came from senior Roger Kreps with 201 rebounds. Kreps, also elected to the Second Team All-Steel Valley, and Bruce Beard were given honorable mention standing in the voting for the All-North Eastern Ohio Basketball team.

Spirit Born Within

Twenty smiling girls in maroon and white formed an impressive line the length of the football stadium. All three squads, Freshman, Junior Varsity, and Varsity, exhibited their style of strict and perfect movements in the cheer, "Victory," and finished by forming pyramids. The crowd reacted enthusiastically by shouting its favorite yell, "1, 2, 3—4, 5, 6—7, 8, 9—10!" Each student began to feel a slight tingle. Perhaps it was due to the chill in the air, but more than likely it was caused by anxiety and excitement—contagious emotions caught from the cheerleaders.

Although their spirit was truly born within, the cheerleaders spent countless hours, together and individually, practicing group coordination and precision. As part of their training, the Varsity attended Camp All-American in Michigan last summer. The girls placed third out of sixty squads for their performing ability and received a trophy for the "most outstanding uniforms." A fourth place award was given to Jeannine King in individual competition.

Varsity Track

Because of their outstanding record in both dual and post-season meets, Coach Peter Gulgin said that the 1968 Track Team was "one of the best teams Boardman has ever had." Their dual meet mark was 8-0, while in post-season competition they won the Steel Valley, County, and District meets.

There were many outstanding individual performances this year; so many, in fact, that nine school records were broken. Team members who broke these records and their new times are as follows: Roger Kreps: mile 4:27.9, 880 1:58; Larry Wire: shot put 54'11 $\frac{1}{4}$ "; Tom Vaughn: pole vault 12'6 $\frac{1}{2}$ "; Jim Westerfield: 440 50.6, 880 relay team 1.33.6, one mile relay 3:31.

Fifty Years of Track

Track at B.H.S., started in 1918 by Coach Barton, has been one of Boardman's most successful sports. Since Mr. Gulgin's reign as coach beginning in 1954, the team has posted a record of 125 wins and 13 losses with three District, twelve Steel Valley, and thirteen County championship crowns.

Cross Country

Cross Country is a sport requiring great endurance and stamina, definite qualities of the Spatran runners. Our team, coached by Mr. Peter Gulgin and his assistant Mr. Neil Williams, finished the 1967 season with a 3-1 record. The lone loss, at the hands of Niles McKinley, was the first in 31 consecutive meets.

Roger Kreps ended the season with an outstanding personal record. He received the Dennis Stoner Award as the squad's best runner for the second straight year. Roger was named the hardest worker, and also logged the most practice miles. Paul Centric was cited as the team's most improved member.

In 1954, Coach Gulgin revived Cross Country at B.H.S. Before this, it had not been recognized as an official school sport, although Mr. Ballinger trained many boys interested in running in meets held with neighboring schools.

Top team shooters were Don Wanick with a 189 average and Rob Morris, who had a 185 average.

The #2 Rifle Team, under the coaching of Mr. Shook, completed the season with a 4-5 record. Composed of freshmen and sophomores, this team also competed in Steel Valley Penn-Ohio Rifle League. Leading scorers were Gary Freeburg and David Yeany.

Wrestling Team

The 1967-68 season was the year Wrestling came into its own at Boardman High. Besides the outstanding individual and team records which were the best in the sport's seven year history, the team received enthusiastic support from the student body at home and at away matches. Leading the team to their 9-2 dual match record which earned them a tie for the League Championship, were seniors Don Gregory, Larry Hageman, Bob Heaver, and Forrest McCartney. Gregory and Hageman were undefeated in dual matches (11-0), while Heaver's and McCartney's records were 9-2. Though the team was only able to place third in the League Tournament, both Gregory and Hageman won their divisions while Heaver and McCartney finished second. In the sectional tournament, Gregory and Hageman finished second, while Heaver finished third and McCartney fourth.

The team, whose record was 7-6, had strong hitting support from Greg Crowley, batting .353 and voted most valuable player, sophomore Kim Grant (.333), and seniors Ray Mellott (.316), and Tom Jacobs (.305). Coach Tom Ferrara's outstanding pitchers were junior Jack Hay with 25 strikeouts in 29 innings and Dennis Anderson pitching 18 strikeouts in 22 1/3 innings.

Class of 1971

If it is true, as the sociologists say, that one individual can change the dynamics of a group, then imagine what potential the 560 freshmen of the class of 1971 possess. At the beginning of the school year, the upperclassmen awaited their presence with high hopes and expectations, for the freshmen were the recipients of all the activities and events that evoke so many memories in the seniors. These underclassmen represent a fresh beginning in high school life because they are the seeds which will, in four years' time, develop into golden flowers. Gold is part of the foundation for all that is bright and beautiful. So too, the freshmen are a part of Boardman, a part of the color and spark of high school community life, and a part of its academic and social climate. And so, as the upperclassmen watch the development of the anxious seeds as they acquire roots, they smile and remember their beginnings, too.

Sophomores

Class of 1970

During the sophomore year, the high school student settles into a pattern. The corridors and classrooms are no longer new to him and although the anxiety and wonder disappear within him, a feeling of self-confidence replaces it. He joins clubs, sports, and other activities, and through each of these he becomes a little more mature. The golden flower that began growing from a seed in the freshman year, now develops a thick and sturdy stem which will support it in future years. So, the sophomore gains a foundation for all future endeavors by joining and participating in school life—a life that can help him prepare to be not only a participant but a leader if he desires to take full advantage of it.

Juniors Class of 1969

The junior year is a year of decisions. It is the time for the student to decide in what direction he will grow and towards what goals he will work. The junior takes vocational tests and college boards, visits colleges and business schools, confers with his guidance counselor, and chooses to study those subjects most beneficial in preparing him for his life's work. During the junior year, the student develops characteristics which enable him to be classified and identified. Teachers, the administration, and other students all attempt to categorize him by the grades he earns, the activities he joins, and his general personal success. By everything he says and does, his personal identity becomes more recognizable to those around him.

The serious A Cappella choir is a blend of voices from engrossed upper classmen.

The Class of '41 welcomes Senior Day with as much enthusiasm as the Class of '68—only the cars have changed.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE: Rick Brill, Larry Hageman,

With many things still uncertain at graduation, there are a few things that can be said with assurance. Most seniors are glad that they never succumbed to the countless temptations throughout the years, even though there were times when one would have traded the struggle for education for almost anything. By the time one is a senior, he has decided much and invested much; now, so close to the immediate goal of graduation, he finds that he still has many decisions to make and much more time to invest. As the culmination of high school life moves closer, the self-appraisal becomes more intense.

The seniors all stand together in their respect for Boardman High School and in their recognition of the values it offers. But each must speak for himself in saying what knowledge and experience he has gained from his four years. In the final analysis, what each has received depends largely on what he had intended to get out of it, and how much he had been willing to put into it.

At the Senior Honor Assembly Craig Lewis, junior class president, accepted the class key, and Doug Heuer presented a check toward an organ to be installed in the new high school. The singing of the alma mater became sentimental.

Anticipation can be read on the faces of the graduates.

This study of silhouetted contrasts was made at Baccalaureate.

Mr. Nisonger, Superintendent of Boardman Schools, introduced past and present members of our Board of Education on the evening of commencement.

YOUTH AND THE WORLD

Strouss'

"There is many a battle that's yet to be won,
There is many a glorious deed to be done.

The world is still young! For the youth at its door
There are tasks some shall do never dreamed of before.

It is not an old world, worn and wrinkled and gray,
It's a world that is being reborn every day."

Hurrah for the Class of 1968!

Born into one of history's most exciting and excited periods . . . better educated, more aware, more challenged than any class that has gone before . . . and facing years of exploration and discovery in all the arts and sciences beyond anything we have yet imagined. It's going to be difficult for you to keep your head in the stars AND your feet on the ground, but the world needs THAT kind of imagination combined with practicality more than it ever has before. Will you rise to the occasion? Only you can answer that!
